Neil M. Clark : John Deere: He Gave to the World the Steel Plow (Classic Reprint) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised John Deere: He Gave to the World the Steel Plow (Classic Reprint):

A pril sunshine and a leather apron, cast a critical eye over the newest newcomers to theW est of golden promise. Even to the experienced blacksmith who had seen many such, they looked a weary, road-worn lot. Five canvas-covered wagons; tired ox-teams, heads adroop; a pack of flea-bitten dogs; Vvilted women with small children in the drivers seats; bedraggled fowls in crates; halfor full-grown boys and maids peering curiously through flaps of the canvas; a calf or two tied behind; gaunt men afoot alongside; patched harness; worn rawhide whips ..(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and don't occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books' Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
