Judy Dave Peterson : Animal Puzzles for the Scroll Saw, Second Edition: Newly Revised Expanded, Now 50 Projects in Wood (Scroll Saw Woodworking) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Animal Puzzles for the Scroll Saw, Second Edition: Newly Revised Expanded, Now 50 Projects in Wood (Scroll Saw Woodworking):

9 of 9 people found the following review helpful. great scrolling project By D. Munchell I have really enjoyed doing the projects out of this book. Most if not all of the designs make excellent gifts. One other thing I have found about this person's designs vs. others is that they don't seem to go out of style as a toy. Some other scrolling designs for children's puzzles seem to either be kind of old or the toy becomes forgotten. These designs and puzzles seem to make wonderful gifts (which I have done) that can last for years. I also recommend following the authors use of different woods for different designs. I made the polar bear out of aspen as the book suggested and it really did fit well with a white bear. I have not attempted to finish it for fear of a color change due to a finish. I now also use Tung Oil to finish ALL of my scrolling projects as the author. It really does bring out the color of the wood. Great book, can't say enough about it. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. great informative book

By Deanna R. Tielking
I'm new to scroll saw work and I've been limited to making small name plates for my kids lockers and for my wife and friends desks. I purchased this book because it looked like a neat way to get into something different with the scroll saw. The information provided in the book is very helpful and easy to read. The projects in the book are just fun. Animal profiles and puzzle shapes are little more forgiving than some of the letters I had to make for name plates. I was able to just sit down and relax as I cut the pieces out. Now my kids are helping stain and finish the projects. I recommend the title completely.

Over 50 patterns for upright and interlocking puzzles including new patterns for a beagle, bison, a panda bear, caribou, red fox, and much more. Step-by-step instructions and 50 great patterns.
