This is not your average coloring book. This is more like a work of art that you get to contribute to and make your own. The illustrations are done by a professional fashion illustrator, not a coloring book artist. I actually bought more than one copy because it is so hard to decide what direction you want to take each illustration. The paper is of high quality and it is a thick hardback style book. It feels more like a portfolio of fashion. Each page could be a fashion advertisement, and the illustrations leave so much more to the artist's creativity. For example- you can decide to color all of the page, or pick one item on the model to color as a means of highlighting/featuring. You can color the sunglasses and maybe fill in lipstick as to make it an "ad" for sunglasses, and leaving the rest uncolored would not make it look unfinished. It's not like your typical art therapy coloring books. I have dozens of fashion coloring books, and this one far exceeds all of them in every way. The only downside is what others had to say about it not laying flat. When I bought an extra copy, I deconstructed it so every page was individual. I put the pages through my scanner/printer to print extra copies on high quality sketch book paper. I have framed and hung up some of my finished pieces in my home and my salon. This book is SO MUCH FUN! I can't recommend this one enough. It is well worth the higher price tag- I promise.

The drawings are well done and are interesting fashion choices. The only problem I had was with the heavy, thick cover. I could not make the book lay flat enough to color easily. I removed both covers and that seemed to help. The paper is better than many other coloring books.
