By SA
After debating between 2 books, I settled on this one... I was disappointed to see how few animals were included in the book (though, it is true, most look like a dog anyway) and also that there were so few pictures. I bought a $2 bag of balloons and a pump while waiting for the book and the Qualtex balloons to arrive and to be honest, I figured out how to make most of what was shown in this book. Also, it seems like the numbers in the book are off - I seem to be ending up with very very long "tails". I bought the book to make animals, etc, for my kids and was generally disappointed. Guess I'll just have to use trial and error to figure out more things myself.

Lon Cerel, the "world's fastest balloon animal maker," has written a how-to for all of us who wish we could make poodles, elephants, and such out of balloons the way Lon and some of his fellow artists do. Here, in a highly-illustrated book that captures the fun of Cerel's standup comedy-with-magic-and-ballooning act, are step-by-step instructions covering everything from how to correctly inflate the balloon without inflating your cheeks, through numerous rubber creatures, all the way to a few hats you can actually wear if you don't mind being made fun of. Featuring a "Forewarned" by the inimitable Henny Youngman, Cerel's book comes with a coupon for 20 free balloons to get you started. The book also features easy-to-understand illustrations cover to cover for all of the balloon sculptures. Lon Cerel's How To Blow Up Animals: A Beginner's Guide to Fun with Balloons makes a great birthday gift, anniversary present, or the perfect gift for that person who has everything!
