Great book for meditative coloring!By Catherine AnneThe first thing that struck me about this was the excellent paper quality. I am so sick and tired of lovely coloring images being sold in books with crappy paper! This tablet is printed on heavy, high quality cardstock that is a delight to color. I color with pencils, markers, and gel pens and I really appreciate this quality. Out of habit, I always put a piece of cardstock behind my working page if I am using alcohol based markers, as they will bleed through a bit. I found that my alcohol markers did bleed through to the back of this paper as to be visible, but NO marker got on my protective sheet. The cardstock is that nice! Water based markers, of course, did not bleed through at all. Colored pencils and gel pens worked well on this as well. I wish more coloring books were on this quality cardstock! The images themselves are fun and whimsical. I consider this type of coloring mindless, as I am not trying to get the "right" colors. It's the sort of collection I reach for when I don't want to bother with shading or fancy techniques. Nothing saying you can't do that, but these aren't the images I choose for that. I found myself lost for quite a while one evening and the next morning coloring away at the butterfly on the first page. The larger format size and the details of the images offer plenty of hours of coloring fun. All in all, I highly recommend this to any colorist who wants to relax and lose themselves in their coloring for many, many hours to come.

Become an artist and color your own masterpiece! A beautiful set of premium coloring posters. 10 designs printed on heavy cardstock. Use any markers or pencils to bring these designs to life. We've selected 10 of our favorite Inner Nature posters and compiled them into this collection wonderful designs. Each animal is filled with elements from its ecosystem, creating a unique interaction of shapes to color.
