Incredible Book By Diana Martin The beauty of glass art has always fascinated me. Glass in itself has filled me with awe, the magic of the light dancing through it and the pure power of something that can be so strong and yet so fragile. I love art as a whole but the things made with beads are so amazing. Having found this book I have a new excitement for it and a new respect for the artisans who create them. The time and dedication they put into their work is awe inspiring. This book shows cases 18 artists and captures the different techniques they use to create their unique and beautiful works. They share secrets and give wonderful tips and advice. The book is very well done and easy to comprehend. It is straight talk and made sense even to a novice like me. Each chapter reflects an artist and how they make their pieces and what inspires them. The pictures are stunning and so amazing. I learned so much from this book and have a newfound passion for glass beading and the art that blooms with in. Tanja Ostwald did an outstanding job making this book come to life and her own passion for it shines in every chapter. She clearly put a lot of effort into it and I can not recommend strongly enough. Whether you are a glass bead artist or just curious, this book is for you. 0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Tanja is generous with her knowledge. INSPIRATION in GLASS shares and ignites the passion for working with hot molten glass. It pays homage to each of the 18 leading glass artisans presented in this book: Akiko Isono, Annette Nilan, Astrid Riedel, Bronwen Heilman, Ginger E.L.A., Holly Cooper, Jeri Warhaftig, Kate Fowle Meleney, Kim Fields, Kristen Frantzen Orr, Lucie Kovarova-Weir, Meike Nagel, Nicole Zumkeller Eric Seydoux, Rocio Bearer, Sharon Peters, Stephanie Sersich, Yoshinori Kondo. The book's aim is to inspire you all the passionate bead makers and creative people around the world to discover your inner-artist. Have you ever looked at pictures of beautiful glass art from leading glass artisans and wondered: - How do they do that? - What inspires them to make this fantastic piece of glass art? - How did they find the ideas and inspiration for their signature piece? For this book I have asked the 18 artisans all these important questions not only because I was craving the answers myself, but also to inspire every passionate bead maker out there, who would love to ask the same questions. This book will give you the unique opportunity to look behind the scenes and offers you the possibility to learn from the artisans and their inspiration and nurture your own passion for working with glass.

About the Author Tanja Ostwald, a banker and business lawyer, is a passionate bead maker since 2009. When she had the opportunity, she moved with her husband in 2011 to Toronto in Canada to fulfill her dream of making glass beads full time, founding her own company Charming Fairy Beads. Today she lives with her husband and two-year-old daughter back in Germany and still loves nothing more than feeling the tranquillity and peace she gets from sitting in front of her torch and letting her inspiration flourish.
