I figure there is something for everyone between these pages...using dolls house elements as embellishments, cigar boxes, altered books, fabric, tins and of course lots of paper. I figured I'd seen just about every permutation of scrapbook, but the paper doll book was a new one for me. And I just loved the suggestion of using gin as a transfer agent onto polymer clay. Can't confirm that it actually works, but I intend to give it a try. At least if the technique doesn't work, there should be some compensation left in the bottle! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Alice Rigglegreat book 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. I love this book! By reddhedgirl I was getting so tired of the scrapbook pages in the magazines; the standard layouts in the pre-made books! Then I found this book and it is great. Making my own books And out of recycled found items! I love it!

Life is filled with thrills and sometimes a mass-produced, commercially available scrapbook just isn't exciting or unique enough for the events it's celebrating. What's a scrapbooker to do? Create something original! These 25 inventive projects offer expressive ways to preserve, showcase, and share the good times. Craft a book from recipe cards to preserve fond family food memories, from big holiday dinners to that precious time spent baking cookies with Mom. Make an album out of driftwood to commemorate a vacation by the beach. Stitch up a single-signature pamphlet out of old sewing patterns for a sewing or quilting journal; glue a cloth measuring tape into the cover to use as a bookmark. You won't find ideas like these anywhere else!
